Hi I am William Elsegood and as the owner of Luxpro I oversee every single project and I know every customer personally. It's quality, not volume, that's my motivation.

William Elsegood

I am passionate about my work

I am proud of every build I have completed and I work very hard to keep it that way.

I work closely with other like-minded professionals and enjoy being a part of a team that can fulfill your dreams and aspirations.

Attention to craft is vital

To become a luxury builder, particularly one who can transform homes with extensive renovations and refurbishments one needs to develop a broad knowledge of construction techniques, materials, and building codes.

Over the decades I have developed attention to detail and a commitment to quality expected from the best of luxury builders.

I understand the importance of using only the finest materials and using them in the most efficient and effective way possible. I also use my natural eye for detail to produce the designers' dreams and collectively we create stunning, custom-built solutions and structures that are truly unique.

Custom Renovations

Attention to the smallest of details

I know that trust and reliability are important traits that will give you peace of mind when you are having your home substantially renovated.

Here are some reasons why

Trust

When a builder is trustworthy, you can be sure that they will do what they say they will do. They will not cut corners or take shortcuts that compromise the quality of the work. You can trust that they will use the best materials and employ the best practices to ensure that the refurbishment work is done to a high standard.

Reliability

A reliable builder is one who shows up on time, works efficiently, and completes the work on schedule. When you are having your home renovated, you want to be able to rely on the builder to show up every day and make progress on the project. A reliable builder will also communicate with you regularly, so you know what is happening and when.

Peace of mind

When you have a builder who is trustworthy and reliable, you can have peace of mind knowing that your home is in good hands. You do not have to worry about the quality of the work or whether the builder will show up when they are supposed to. You can relax and let the builder do their job, knowing that they will do it well.

Professionalism

Trust and reliability are also traits of a professional builder. A professional builder takes pride in their work and is committed to delivering high-quality results. They are accountable for their actions and are responsive to their client's needs. They understand that a home renovation can be stressful for the homeowner, and they strive to make the process as smooth and stress-free as possible.

Custom Homes

I strive to ensure that my entire team is aware of who you are and what your needs are by limiting the number of home builds we undertake each year.

This means that this:

1. Allows for more personalised service and attention to detail.
2. Ensures that your needs are met.
3. Gives you more time to discuss and plan your build.
4. Provides a higher quality of product due to fewer builds.
5. Allows for better quality control and oversight.
6. Ensures that the team is more familiar with your needs.
7. Gives you more confidence in the team's ability to deliver quality.
8. Allows the team to better prioritise your requests.
9. Encourages better communication between you and my team.
10. Helps to build trust between you and my team.

I'll work with you to ensure every detail is tailored to your individual style and needs.

At the end of the process, you'll have a one-of-a-kind living space that reflects who you are and what matters most to you. With a home that's truly unique, you can't help but feel as though you belong.
